

Assignment # 1
"Bc" Verb

BSCS Semester 1 M1

Submitted by:

ABDULLAH WAQAR (506)

Submitted to:

Ma'am Sadia Rafiq

Definition:

The most common, irregular English Verb used to express existence, identity, states, or location.

It acts as a main verb.

c.g: "I am happy."

An auxiliary / helping verb.

c.g: "She is running"

To form a continuous tenses, passive voice, and future tense constructions.

Reference:

"www.Grammarly.com"

Characteristics:

Irregular Conjugation, Main Verb (Linking Verb), Auxiliary Verb, Eight Forms, Forms Contractions, Negation & Questions.

Irregular Conjugation:

Unlike regular Verbs, "be" changes form extensively based on subject and tense.

eg: I am → She is → They were

Main Verb (Linking Verb)

It connects the subject to a noun or adjective that describes it.

eg: The sky is blue.

Auxiliary Verb:

There are two type of Auxiliary verb.
Progressive Tenses, Passive voice.

Negation & Questions:

Subject + Be verb + not

Negation with the "Be" verb (am/is/are/ was/were) is formed by placing "not" directly after the verb.

c.g: "She is not tired".

Questions are created by inverting the subject and the "be" verb

c.g: "Are they here?"

Contractions like isn't, aren't, wasn't and weren't are common in informal speech.

Note:

"I amn't" is not possible; use "I'm not" instead.

Reference:

"<http://learnenglish.britishcouncil.org>"

Behave in Sentence:

Present tense:

She is a natural-born leader.

I am freezing in this outfit

Past tense:

We were in danger without even knowing it.

It was the best night of the trip

The underline words are be-verb.

Reference:

<http://grammarly.com>.